

[A] method of group decision making characterized by a kind of equality among the participants at an essential stage of the collective decision making.

“[Democracy] is not about good decision-making but about legitimacy. A government gains its right to govern by the assent of the people.”

– John Armstrong, The Philosophy of Voting

